CAPTAIN NATHAN M. CLARK - 1826-1869

Contributed by Lisa Clark Young, 1601 Yorkshire Dr., Champaign, IL 61821 (From Urbana Free Public Library, Urbana, IL)

Captain Nathan M. Clark was a prominent figure in the little City of Champaign [Illinois] in the early days and helped in the making of that city.

The addition to Champaign as noted on the map bears his name and is known as the Farnham, Clark and White's Addition. It covered a large block of lots extending from Washington Street on the north to White Street on the south and from Neil Street on the east to Prairie Street on the west. In the center of the addition is West Side City Park, which was a part of the subdivision and extends over into John P. White's addition. This park was given to the City of Champaign by the platters of said addition.

N. M. Clark also gave to Champaign a smaller addition known as N. M. Clark's Addition extending from White Street to Springfield Avenue and from Lynn Street on the west to Elm Street on the east.

Nathan M. Clark was born in Melford, Connecticut, in August 21, 1826, and died in Rochester, Minnesota, on March 2, 1869, having married Emily L. Burt on November 15, 1853.

He was captain of a company in the regiment of Colonel Samuel T. Busey and served in the Civil War and particularly was with General Sherman on his march from Atlanta to the Sea.

FROM THE EDITOR

Several subscribers have informed me that certain issues of their newsletters have not arrived. In each case I have checked both my computer and print records and find everything in order. Thus, I am left with the assumption that they were lost in the mail. Please inform me immediately if you do not receive an issue in order that I may send a replacement promptly.

Thank you for all the interesting and valuable Clark information that you send. Some days are just like Christmas. I try to use as much of the material in the Clarion as space allows. But in any event, the information goes into my computer files for future reference.

I wish each of you an enjoyable summer.

COLONEL JOSEPH CLARK OF TENNESSEE

By Charley C. Grigg, Rt. 1, Box 172, Lancaster, TN 35869

Col. Joseph Clarke and wife, Nancy, moved into Tennessee either from Virginia or North Carolina. It is not known at this time where they first settled. My first record of them is in McMinnville, Warren Co., Tennessee, where they settled in the 7th District, at the base of Short Mountain near the beginning of Stones River. The Land Survey of 1827 is the first record I have of them for sure. In 1836, this part of Warren County was cut off and placed in Cannon County. Joseph T. Clarke, their first known child, was on the commission to form Cannon County.

After Col. Joseph Clarke died, his farm was sold and divided among his five children, who may have been the only children living at that time. Old letters written to Joseph T. Clarke mention this division. No record of a will has been found, but the court record of the settlement, by Joseph T. Clarke, shows a balance of $173.31 and 1/4 cent left after all bills were paid (July 5, 1834, Warren Co., TN, Court Records).

Nancy Clarke is found on the 1850 census of Dekalb County, Tennessee, in Liberty, TN, in the household of her son Joseph T. In 1850, her age was 72 years. She is not found on the 1860 census. Neither Nancy's nor Joseph's burial site has been located.

Col. Joseph Clarke was born ca 1745-50 and died ca 1833-34. Joseph was either married two or three times, making Nancy, mentioned above either his second or third wife. His children by previous marriage(s) follow:

- 1) J. W. "Jon" Clarke, b. 25 Mar 1781; d. 24 Dec 1883; m. Martha Moore; both bur. in Clarke Cem., #3, Boons Hill, TN. (Prob. of 1/m)
- 2) Benjamin Clarke, b. ca 1790. (Found in records; relationship not proven.)
- 3) Peter W. Clarke, b. 1794, VA. (Poss. of a 2/m)
- 4) Frances Clarke, b. ca 1799; d. 31 Dec 1863; m. William C. Halpain. (Poss. of a 2/m)

Children of Joseph's marriage to his last wife, Nancy (1778-ca 1850), follow:

- 1) Joseph T. Clarke, b. 11 Nov 1807, TN or VA; d. 19 Nov 1900; bur. in Salem Baptist Church Cemetery, Liberty, Dekalb Co., TN.
- 2) John Thomas Clarke, Sr., b. 1812; m. Delia (?), who was b. 1832.

(To be continued)

EARLY CLARKS IN HARNETT CO., NORTH CAROLINA

Contributed by Nancy M. Grotzinger, 1301 Hamlet Dr., Blue Springs, MO 64014

In 1985, Lt. Col. (USAF Ret.) Victor E. Clark, Jr., of Dallas, Texas, had in his possession the family Bibles of Gilbert Clark and Gilbert's son David. Lt. Col. Clark submitted this information to NCGSJ, where it was first printed.

In addition to the Bible information, some additional information on this family was found in Sketches of North Carolina, by Henry W. Foote, M. G. According to Rev. Foote, Alexander Clark emigrated by 1739 from the Isle of Jura to the upper Cape Fear area of North Carolina. Alexander's father, Gilbert Clark, had a half-brother, Kenneth Clark, whose descendants came to America some time later. Alexander had eight children, of whom four sons are given by Lt. Col. Clark: Gilbert (of whom later), John, Daniel, and Archibald).

Gilbert Clark, b. 1723, Isle of Jura; d. 8 Oct 1798, Cumberland Co., NC; m. Ann Alexander (D. 10 Aug 1805). Gilbert was an Elder in the Barbecue Church, Captain in the Militia, and a Justice of the Peace. Gilbert and Ann's ch:

MESHACH CLARK - MARY E. SEIDERS, Maine, Massachusetts
Linda A. Straus, 5747 Briarcliff Rd., Los Angeles, CA 90068

I am particularly interested in the Clarks in Maine (specifically Dixmont and Frankfort from before 1813 to the end of the century) and in Lynn, MA (ca 1840 to ca 1900) who were involved in the shoe industry. I need to find the parents of my g-g-g-grandfather Meshach, b. in Frankfort in 1813, who removed w/ parents to Dixmont at about age 15. Meshach, one of 13 ch., married Mary E. Seiders of Waldoboro and fathered 8 ch., only one other known: Sally who m. a Simpson.

NOTE: Linda's address was inadvertently left off this query in February. Sorry!!
