Sunday

Dear Friends: Have you given up looking for a letter from me? Thank you for remembering me with "Forward". I went to the Ordinary's office to see what I could find about Alec McBride but found nothing but his will and marriage date that would be too late to help.

I also looked at cemetery records and the one that is in the part of the county where McBrides live is missing. I had occasion to write the bishop and I told him how much I missed your good voices and your ability to have a full service. I did not tell him that we hadn't had a sermon since you left. I put in a good day's work in the yard yesterday. Enjoyed it. Hope you are both well. As ever, Thelma
