Dear Bobby and Cora,

I enjoyed seeing you in Denamrk and all the cousins. We did not get to go to Kenny's funeral or to Tootsie's. I sent $100.00 to the First Familias and received a nice telephone call frm Mr. Eoinest explaining that he was returning the check but would send an invitation to join with papers to fill out and that one son could join for an extra $35.00. That pleased me but I have not heard anymore fomm anyone. Maybe he found my old papers when Mrs Moore was sec.in 79.

Time moves on and next week we go to Estill for the feast and fellowship with cousins. Look over the enclosure chara that I revised from the chart that Uncle Addrian or some put together. Make any corections if you see fit and if you like it you may keep it. As you know nobody khows much about my mothers Crim Family## so I am beginning to shake a few trees to see what happens. I noticed that the editor of the State paper is Sidney Crim. I plan to write him soon. Enclosed is "More about Crim Family", you May keep this also.

My grand niece Ann Hunter age 22 had gallblader surgery monday and she will be at our home until recovery. Nancy her mother is my Brother Jeter's oldest child. Sörrta unusual for one so young to have so many so big, severral as big as small finger nails. Ann isto be married 12 May 84 to Alex Young. Time marches on, By the way my youngest grandson is named Addrian Rhodes and my youngest granddaughter is named Grace Watson. That makes seven grand children with three named Rhodes. Aunt Myrtle Rhodesn Uncle Addrians wife died recently. She was the last one of that generation. Thanks for listening and when you get something on the Rhodes family let me know.

I am trying to stir up some interest on the History of North Charleston. I am chairman of the Arts Commission and I am trying to sell a study of the area from the earliest times. I wonder if Dr. Henry Woodward came this way in 1666 before the settlement of Charlestown in 1670. Some say that he was the first Englishman to hit this lowlands.

Must close as festival is Tomorrew, cousinlly,

Milton and Frances
